

"THE COW PEN"

A Corner To Be Used Exclusively For the Promotion of Plan To Locate Better Cows In This County
BY W. M. BRUNSON

I told you last week that we were getting some beef type cows in this section and I am mighty proud of it, but we must all be careful and not allow the beef type cattle to cross with our milk stock. In other words, when a white face calf comes, make up your mind that he is going to be sold. It makes no difference whether it is a heifer or a bull, you should sell it at the proper time. You do not need to save the heifers for breeding purposes as the Jersey heifer is much better and we can always sell the white face for more than enough to put a Jersey grade heifer in its place. No one can afford to keep a bull that is not thoroughbred, so you should see that every white face yearling is for sale at some time. If you ever allow them to become crossed with your milk cows you will lose heavily on your milk cows.

Went't be a great day when our bankers will ask a man how many cows he has, instead of how many acres of cotton he has, when we try to borrow a little money? If a three-hundred dollar loan of three hundred dollars and over as security a note on seven head of good milk cows and nine heifer yearlings don't you know the bankers would smile from ear to ear and say: "Yes sir, we will be glad to give you the money." When he asked you how long you would want it, you would tell him you could start paying it back Saturday and I can pay it all back in 90 days, as I am selling about $50.00 worth of cream each month. But when you ask a loan on thirty acres of cotton, the banker says: "The only thing they when you can pay back? Of course you set the date in the fall, but both you and the banker know at the time that you will not. You take a chance on the weather, you take a chance on the weevil, you take a chance on the price. And the worst part of it is that as a rule all three of these things get instead of one of them. So we have folks who insist that cotton is the only thing we can make money with.

By the way, I am still offering that $1,000.00 reward, and no one has called for it. Can't it be that we will not even try to see the light? I can show you a thousand cotton farmers who have made a failure and when I offer you $1-

Former Elba Boy Attains Naval Honors

Grady Rhodes, U. S. N., a former Elba boy, is visiting relatives and friends in this community. His visit marks the termination of his four years honorable naval service. Grady enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1929 and took a regular high rating while in the navy. He is now a first-class radioman, which is an unusual accomplishment in four years. His next high rating will be chief radioman, and to reach this rating he is required to complete a course of instruction at the Naval Radio School, Washington, D. C. He is extending his current enlistment, two years, for this month's course of instruction, after which he hopes to visit his parents at Pensacola, Fla., for a tour of shore duty. Grady has many friends who are always glad to welcome him home as well as with him in every success in his naval career.

Free Entertainment Here Every Saturday Afternoon

A movement to provide free entertainment for the visitors at Elba on Saturday afternoons is now on foot, and according to announcement the first attraction will be on next Saturday, June 7th. Business men are having an elevated platform erected on the square which will be used for these entertainments. Among the features will be music, boxing, dancing, and the platform will also be used for public speaking by any who wish to use it. Eli Brunson is sponsoring the movement, and it will no doubt prove quite entertaining for visitors here on Saturdays.

Mr. Claud Smith went to Birmingham the first of the week, having been called on account of the death of a brother, Mr. Kirby Smith.

WHAT THEY'RE DOING IN BALDWIN

(Dotlan Eagle.)

During the past seven days 720 cars of produce were shipped out of Baldwin County, making a total of 1,480 cars for the season.

From the town of Robertsville alone, 400 cars of Irish potatoes were shipped; 350 cars of cucumbers; 150 cars of corn and 10 cars of sweet potatoes.

The neighboring towns of Loxley, Foley and Silverhill shipped about a similar quantity.

The farmers of Southeast Alabama are mostly German descent who settled there from the Middle West. They are hard workers, and they are making good money applying a never-ending demand for fresh produce.

The farmers of Houston County have as good or better land for truck farming. The farmers near Ashford are raising some produce—more than is being raised elsewhere in the county.

Why not diversity? It means more money, and money means more money, and money means more money when it is needed probably more than at any other time during the year. Plant cotton, of course, but plant less cotton and more produce. The farmer would then have a source of revenue in both the spring and the fall.

In recent years the farmers of the Wiregrass have diversified more and more, and they are reaping proportionate benefits. If a sufficient number of farmers were to make a business of raising produce a market would be created and buyers would be on hand to take charge of it.

The human stomach is something that can never be filled for long at a time. And there is cash money in the business of supplying the bill.

The farmers of Southeast Alabama, and those of Central Alabama who specialize in strawberries, crops, are realizing it.

Farmers Will Soon Start Weevil Fight

AUBURN, Ala., May 28.—Whether or not the battle between the cotton farmer and the boll weevil this year will be bigger than last will be determined largely by the condition of the weather during June, July and August, in the opinion of W. A. Ruffin, extension entomologist at Auburn. If the weather should be generally dry and hot it will do much to control weevils; if it should be cool with frequent rains farmers must either apply poison or allow much of their cotton to be destroyed, Mr. Ruffin said.

And a little dry weather is not adequate for control, he explained. "Too frequently," he said, "farmers assume that a few days of hot weather with the sun shining will kill weevils but this is not the case. Such weather may kill a few of them but enough will survive to make it very profitable for farmers to apply calcium arsenate to poison them."

Along with farmers, county agents are keeping an eye on the boll weevil situation and advising farmers to be ready to begin applying poison as soon as enough weevils are seen.
